Speak Up Training (for up to 100 people)  Full day program	The Speak Up team program was developed more than 15 years ago in Ontario and has now expanded across the country. The training gives participants the ability to tell their stories, in an easy-to-understand and compelling manner. This could be of use in farm tours or presentations to council meetings, service club members, school groups and more. In this workshop you'll learn who your average Canadian is, how much they know or don't know about food and farming and how to tell your farm story to a non-farming audience.	$1,500 full day program	$2,500 + travel expenses	$4,000 + travel expenses
Media Training (for up to 10 people; fee includes 2 facilitators, videographer and all course materials) Full day program	This day-long session is interactive and gives the participants an understanding of the media, the tools needed to prepare to face the media and an interview process that will give each person real life interview experience.	25% discount	$400 per person	$4,000 + travel expenses
Livestock Emergency Response Course (for emergency responders and farm groups)	Accidents involving livestock trailers present unique challenges for First Responders. Farm animals injured or trapped and roaming loose require special consideration at accident scenes. Topics covered will include trailer design and extrication, animal behaviour; means to calm, rescue, capture and temporarily confine animals, laws and regulation, euthanasia protocols, and how to develop response teams.	$5,000* Cost includes course for up to 25 participants (includes workshop materials and lunch for participants). Additional participants are $100 per person. Additional travel costs may apply for courses booked more than 200 km away from Guelph.
