FFCO cultivates appreciation for food and farming by connecting farm gates to dinner plates.

Farm & Food Care Ontario (FFCO) is a registered Canadian charity that brings together farmers, agricultural professionals, related businesses and other groups together with a mandate to provide credible information on food and farming in Canada. If you've got a question about agriculture in Ontario, we'd be pleased to answer it.

Vision

Earn public trust in Ontario food and farming.

Mission

Proactively work with Ontario farmers and food partners to build public trust and consumer confidence in our food and farming systems.

Who are we?

Farm & Food Care Ontario (FFCO).

FFCO was founded in 2012 through the amalgamation of predecessor organization - the Ontario Farm Animal Council (OFAC) and AGCare. Each had decades of award-winning impact.

Together with industry partners, FFCO has lead 30+ years of meaningful connections with Ontarians, bringing awareness, appreciation and access to reliably sourced, factual information about food and farming in Ontario.

FFCO provides a window into working Ontario farms and food production facilities through a multi-faceted approach that includes campaigns, events and resources. Projects are undertaken with priority on cross-commodity relevance, reach and industry-wide impact.

Whether you are a consumer, a farmer, someone who works in agri-business, or anyone interested in knowing more about food and farming, we are working for you and with you every day – building trust with Ontarians.

Help to grow awareness and appreciation for food and farming in Ontario through public outreach and education initiatives including:

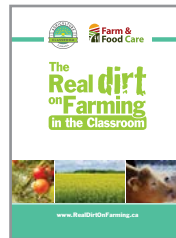

Held on farms and fairgrounds across Ontario, these events host thousands of urban and suburban families and individuals each year to meet farmers from their communities.

Hosted by FFCO members and partners, these Breakfast on the Farm events offer a taste of Ontario and a chance to ask questions and learn directly from farmer experts.

Food is connected to many of the big issues facing our society, from the cost of living and energy, to climate change, and health care. The Real Dirt on Farming is tackling those issues head-on to answer your questions, and to show you what farmers are doing to feed you safely, nutritiously, and sustainably.

+ The Real Dirt on Farming in the Classroom

Created in partnership with Agriculture in the Classroom Canada (AITC-C), these resources and accompanying publication provide curriculum-linked and relevant learning opportunities for classrooms across Canada.

Both the publication and teachers guide are available in print and at www.RealDirtOnFarming.ca.

FARM FOOD 360°

Immerse yourself in Canadian Farm and food tours

State-of-the-art virtual reality tours give viewers a 360° degree look at Canadian farms and processing facilities, all from the comfort of their own homes or classrooms. New tours are added annually at FarmFood360.ca.

+ FarmFood360° in the Classroom

These FarmFood360° tours and accompanying resources enable educators and students to visit farms across Canada, hear from real farmers, and test their knowledge at the end of each tour.

With a food system as diverse and plentiful as ours, it really does take a village. Faces Behind Food social media campaign shares the stories and passion of the real people behind the food that we love, one person at a time.

Find these stories @FacesBehindFood on Instagram and Facebook.

Farm Tours

Since 2004, FFCO has hosted almost 4,000 food writers, bloggers, chefs, registered dietitians, culinary instructors, students, professional home economists, government staff and more for close-up experience of farms and food processors across Ontario. Tours are customizable for specific audiences.
