

Supporter level member:
Mike and Sally Van Straaten

"We became members of FFCO knowing that this organization was one that aligned with all of our commitments to food quality/safety, farming and sustainable agriculture as farmers ourselves.

By supporting an organization that builds connection and communication between the farmer and the consumer, we can build awareness and understanding that will help sustain the future of this industry.

Recognizing that Farm & Food Care is an agricultural industry influencer, becoming a member was an easy decision for us."