Gay Lea Foods Co-operative Ltd.

As a Canadian dairy farmer-owned co-operative, Gay Lea Foods understands the importance of building and maintaining public trust in food and farming. For more than 65 years, our farmer members and employees have worked together to produce safe, high-quality dairy products for Canadian families, ensuring the value our business creates flows to the members of our co-operative and the communities we touch. From our farms and production facilities to our distribution networks and beyond, we embrace and act with co-operative-inspired values, understanding there is no shortcut to quality or success.

By proactively bringing farmers and food partners together to communicate our shared values and provide balanced, credible information about food and farming to consumers – including the industry's shared commitment to animal care, food safety, and the environment – Farm and Food Care Ontario (FCCO) is creating new channels for open, transparent dialogue within our food system. Our co-operative has been a long-time partner and supporter of FCCO's efforts and looks forward to ongoing collaboration to advocate for and build public trust and consumer confidence in our food and farming systems."
