

Breakfast on the Farm 2026 Host Application

Filling out this application is the first step in the process of being considered to host a Breakfast on the Farm event. We appreciate your interest in this outreach opportunity to engage a large non-farming audience.

Application Directions

Farm & Food Care is looking for hosts for the 2026 Breakfast on the Farm (BOTF) program. It will build off successful events over the last many years – each attracting 1500+ visitors. To see pictures of the events visit: <http://www.farmfoodcareon.org/breakfast-on-the-farm/>

The purpose of BOTF is to cultivate awareness and appreciation for food and farming through a fun event that emphasizes the importance of environmental stewardship, food safety and good animal care practices.

If you would like FFCO to consider your site as a host for a Breakfast on the Farm (BOTF), please complete this application and submit it to Farm & Food Care Ontario. Your completed application must be received by March 17, 2026. Hosts will be selected shortly after the deadline.

The preferred timeline is between May to October. Please keep this in mind when applying to host.

If you have any questions, please contact events@farmfoodcare.org or call the office at (519) 837-1326.

Things to Consider

These events can attract up to 2,500 people over a four - five hour period. There may also be several hundred vehicles on-site during the event. As a host for a 2026 BOTF event you should be prepared to accommodate at least this number of people.

Farm & Food Care will work with the selected host to determine a mutually agreeable date and to establish a local planning committee.

There is a significant time commitment to hosting a Breakfast on the Farm event. The planning committee expects that at least one member of the host farm help with the planning process and be the liaison between the committee and the host farm. The host farm will also be a resource to area contacts for planning committee members and needed suppliers.

There may be additional time needed to help prepare the farm for hosting the event. Leading up to the event there will be visits to the host farm by the planning committee. Set-up primarily takes place during the week leading up to the event. Clean up happens at the end of the event and could last a couple of days depending on rentals needed (tent, tables, chairs etc.).

Logistical Information	Yes	No
Do you have a building that would accommodate up to 300 people at a time for breakfast? (If no, a tent can be rented)
Do you have an area where visitors can park (up to 400 cars at a time)?
Do you believe the facilities will accommodate 1,500 to 2,500 visitors over a four to five hour time period?
What would you estimate your visitor capacity to be at one time? (approximate)

Are you willing to serve as a media spokesperson and have conversations with visitors?
Has anyone on your farm ever had media/Speak Up training?

Insurance

Do you currently carry liability insurance that covers visitors when on the site?

If you do not have liability insurance, special event liability coverage may be possible through your insurance carrier. Please note that activities involving vehicles or machinery (for example, hayrides) often require additional/specialized liability insurance beyond the standard liability. It will be required that you have a special one-day policy if not already covered.

Volunteers

BOTF requires a good planning committee of local leaders who are willing to help plan the large event. Farm & Food Care will have a representative on the committee as well. Other leaders will be needed to serve on the planning committee.

The BOTF event day requires a number of volunteers to serve in many different capacities; from parking cars to serving breakfast and acting as a host at various stations. This will be a role for the planning committee to help identify local volunteers/ag ambassadors.

BOTF requires up to 100 volunteers the day of the event. Are you comfortable in helping to recruit some of the volunteers?

_____ Yes _____ No

Fundraising

BOTF involves many local leaders who are willing to help plan and fund the event. You will be one of the key people involved in contacting potential donors who you know or do business with. The funds will come from your local area. Are you comfortable in helping fundraise for the event?

Hosting a BOTF requires a financial commitment. Even though funds will be raised to cover the event, there may be maintenance items and preparation expenses in relation to getting the farm ready to host the event. Families have spent a considerable amount of time and effort cleaning, organization and preparing their farm to be open to the public (i.e. pressuring washing the barn). Are you willing to take on this commitment?

_____ Yes _____ No
